Two Officers Wounded by Gunman

NEW YORK (AP) — A man firing a shotgun from 15 feet critically wounded two patrolmen early today as they responded to a call in the Crown Heights section of Brooklyn, police reported.

Police officials termed the shooting an ambush. About 20 policemen wearing bulletproof vests and armed with shotguns searched the neighborhood for the gunman.

The victims were identified as patrolmen Thomas Dockery, 31, and Leonard Fleck, 28, both of Brooklyn. The night administrator of Kings County Hospital said Dockery was hit in the right shoulder and arm and Fleck in the chest and abdomen.

Police said Dockery and Fleck were answering a call to investigate an argument at 1054 Eastern Parkway, a four-story, B2-family brick building.

Eastern Parkway is the dividing line between the predominantly Negro Bedford-Stuyvesant section and the Crown Heights section, where many Jewish families reside.

The gunman escaped by running down an alleyway on the right side of the building, police said.

contributed to the success of the efforts.

The current boost in the price of steel started Wednesday when Bethlehem Steel Corp., the industry's second-leading producer, said it was raising the cost of its products 5 per cent across the board.

Republic Steel Corp., the nation's No. 3 steel producer, followed later Wednesday with an announcement that it's prices on principal products were going up.

The nation's largest steel firm, U.S. Steel, then said Thursday it was hiking prices $7 a ton on selective but major items. That boost was announced after Clifford's order to avoid buying from firms who set general increases.

Several smaller firms also followed the lead of the Big Three and there are indications that the pattern will spread through the industry.

The Pentagon spends $550 million to $590 million per year on an estimated 3.7 million tons of steel—3.75 per cent of the nation's total production.

Clifford said the price increases would have a "serious impact" on defense costs, but he didn't say precisely how much.

Red Talkers Call American Leaders Liars

PARIS (AP) — The spokesman for the North Vietnamese delegation to the Paris talks charged today that each time the United States advances peace proposals it intensifies the war in Vietnam. This shows that the American leaders are "impudent liars," he declared.

Nguyen Thanh Le was commenting at a news conference on recent statements by Secretary of State Dean Rusk and President Johnson and the announcement Thursday that 4,000 new American troops had arrived in South Vietnam.

Linking the troop arrival with Johnson's appeal to world opinion to urge North Vietnam to match U.S. restraint in limiting the bombing of North Vietnam, he said, "This shows again that each time the United States advances proposals of peace, it makes a new intensification of the war. . . All this shows that the American leaders are impudent liars."

Le said that the statements by Rusk and Johnson in the past few days and the sending of new troops "is new evidence showing that the government of the United States continues to press the war against the Vietnamese people, clings to its colonialist and warlike position in the official Paris conversations and continues obstinately to demand reciprocity."

Negro Police Policy Ruled Illegal

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A police policy—common in the South—of restricting Negro policemen to a Negro section was ruled unconstitutional Thursday by the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The decision came in a suit filed by 12 Negro officers on the St. Petersburg, Fla., police force, attacking assignments and other administrative practices.

The appeal was from a U.S. District Court ruling upholding the department on the ground that its racial classifications were merely to further "effective administration."

"If police efficiency were an end in itself, the police would be free to put an accused on the rack," the appeals court said. "Police efficiency must yield to constitutional rights."

GOP blueprint for the nation's future.

Dirksen ruled out of order a move to cut the draft document of some 15,000 words in half. Congressmen among the delegates weighed whether to seek later today a time limit on speechmaking.

The committeemen spent their first lengthy session shaping a preamble and the first page of planks on cities and urban affairs, reported Rep. Charles E. Goodell of New York, a supporter of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York for president. He termed the atmosphere harmonious.

Both Dirksen and Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York, a Rockefeller backer, denied a published report that Javits had stormed out of the closed meeting after accusing Dirksen of railroading the platform.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin of Michigan said the Republicans will adopt a plank—without mentioning Abe Fortas or Homer Thornberry by name—calling for an independent judiciary and highest standards in the appointment of judges, "including the Supreme Court."

Griffin has been fighting President Johnson's nomination of Fortas to be Chief Justice and Thornberry to be an associate justice on grounds that Johnson's choices were based on cronyism.

Prospects for accord on the Vietnam plank improved after Richard M. Nixon's statement to the committee Thursday endorsing negotiations and an increasing take-over of the war burden by South Vietnam.

Javits said this put Nixon and Rockefeller in agreement on the main Vietnam issues and pitted the views of the two against what he termed the hard line of Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

Nixon and Rockefeller between them have a majority of the delegates at the nominating convention. Reagan, California's favorite son choice for president, has stressed defense of South Vietnam to prevent Communist expansion.

The plane, piloted by Vernon Swartzrock, 17, of Charles City, Iowa, has been missing since Sunday night.

James said the search headquarters would move to Fort Smith today with 15 to 20 planes available for the search. He said the search Thursday was limited to Swartzrock's presumed flight route from Fayetteville to Fort Smith.

James said Swartzrock arrived at Fayetteville Sunday night from Charles City. He said Swartzrock filed a flight plan from Fayetteville to Longview, Tex., took off, and then returned after encountering bad weather. He said Swartzrock took off about 20 minutes later without filing a flight plan.

Congress in Recess for One Month

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The 90th Congress, scattering after today for a month's recess, will be back in September to grapple with an array of major bills and an historic controversy that could keep it here till Christmas.

Overshadowing all else when the unwelcome election-season session begins will be the possibility of a filibuster over President Johnson's Supreme Court nominations.

This prospect and the impact of the two national political conventions prompted Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield to say Thursday that "after the recess there will be a lot of politics and little substance."

"I wouldn't be surprised if we stayed here the rest of the year," he added.

If Congress does, it will be the longest election-year session since World War II.

The nominations of Abe Fortas as chief justice and Homer Thornberry as an association justice of the Supreme Court, plus gun controls and the nuclear nonproliferation treaty are the major items facing the Senate.

But that chamber must also wrap up action along with the House on such things as the farm bill, foreign aid, education and financing the war in Vietnam.

House Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass., said the House is counting on a quick session. With the lengthy battle abating over the Supreme Court, however, the House likely will have to await the Senate's pleasure before much is accomplished.

Complicating the situation will be the question of a recess for the November elections and the impact of the election itself.

Besides a new administration, voters will elect more than 30 senators, and all 435 Representatives.

The Senate Judiciary Committee this week shelved any action on the Supreme Court nominees until Congress reconvenes after Labor Day. But it is doubtful the matter will reach the floor quickly even then, if at all.

The committee must decide whether to reject the nominations or report them to the floor and then majority and minority reports must be written. The whole process could take days, even weeks.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., leader of the fight against the nominations, claims the support of 40 colleagues from both sides of the aisle which, if true, would mean more than enough votes to keep prolonged debate from being shut off.

Even in the unlikely event the Supreme Court matter is settled quickly, gun control legislation could erupt into a major and lengthy floor battle.

The House has approved a bill to ban the mail-order sales of rifles, shotguns and most ammunition, and the Senate Judiciary Committee has reported a similar measure to the floor.

But there is a strong movement in the Senate for adding registration of firearms and licensing of owners. Although the House soundly rejected such provisions, Senate backers plan to fight for them on the floor.

Despite the formidable tasks that remain, the 90th Congress

Court Urged Not to Change Prejudice Bar

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Russell E. Parsons, defense attorney for the accused assassin of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, has urged Superior Court not to modify its order barring prejudicial statements by principals in the case.

Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, the 24-year-old Jordanian national charged with Kennedy's death, appears before Superior Court Judge Richard Schauer today to enter a plea.

Parsons said Thursday that he had submitted a brief to Schauer opposing modification of the order originally made by Superior Court Judge Arthur L. Alarcon.

Dist. Atty. Evelle J. Younger told Schauer at Sirhan's last court appearance on July 19 that he will seek either revocation or modification of the order.

Parsons said in the document filed in Superior Court that there is "widespread interest" in the case throughout the world.

"Every utterance of anyone connected with the case is published and considered by thousands of people," he said.

If Younger does not succeed in his request to revoke the entire order, he is expected to ask that it be modified to allow law enforcement agencies to tell newsmen their evaluation of alleged evidence in the case.

Huntsville Box Lopsided for a Faubus

HUNTSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Herbert L. Burch of Rogers says he will not challenge the votes in a box in War Eagle Township at Huntsville, although the late-reporting box was the difference between victory and defeat in his race for prosecutor of the 19th Judicial District.

The box, which reported Wednesday morning, gave Farrell E. Faubus of Huntsville, son of former Gov. Orval E. Faubus, 480 votes to 66 for Burch.

The unofficial totals in the district showed Faubus winning the race by less than 175 votes. Burch said it appeared "strange" to him that the box was 12 hours late reporting. He also said it was "absolutely lopsided" compared with the other boxes in Madison County. He also said 11 more votes were tabulated than show on voter registration lists, and that he was unable to get any sort of vote count from the election officials in charge.

The other boxes in Madison County showed Faubus with 1,032 votes and Burch with 238. Farrell Faubus said the returns from the War Eagle box were not surprising.

"He should have known I'd carry my hometown of Huntsville," Faubus said. "Actually, he got more votes in Madison County than I thought he would. I must have made some enemies."

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Automobiles play an important part in the television career of Detroit-born Martin Milner.

There were the four years, starting in 1960, of "Route 66," an action series notable for the fact that although Milner and co-star George Maharis played a pair of penniless wanderers, they always were driving the latest model of their automobile sponsor's sports car.

Now there is "Adam 12," an upcoming NBC series in which producer Jack Webb will explore the work day of uniformed men of the Los Angeles Police Department in somewhat the same realistic understated way he has handled his "Dragnet."

Milner is teamed this time with Kent McCord. They play a pair of cops patrolling their beat in a squad car.

After accepting the part of senior officer Pete Malloy a year ago, Milner logged 200 or more hours in the field, tagging along with real policemen in cruiser cars. Dressed in civilian clothes and mildly disguised behind a pair of heavy horn-rimmed glasses Milner watched and made notes as the men handled situations that ranged from murder to accidents. His first encounter was with a violent psychopath threatening to kill his wife and mother-in-law.

Just as "Dragnet" over the years has been as void of violence as "The Donna Reed Show" in spite of its subject matter, so too will be "Adam 12."

"We've got six shows in the can now," said Milner, "and although there have been some shots fired, no one has been hit. I haven't fired a gun and no one has used fists."

The series, again like "Dragnet," has the blessing of the local police force, and its stories will be based on real Los Angeles cases. In many cases policemen involved in a case adapted to television will serve as consultants in their off-duty time.

Milner, his wife and four children live in suburban area of Los Angeles where a hot political fight is brewing.

"I have a definite preference between the two men," Milner said, "and I certainly feel that actors like other people have a right to make their political choices known. But I'm going to stay quiet about this one, because by November a lot of people are going to think about me as a Los Angeles policeman."

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper. "GHOST'S HOST" GETS SYMPATHY, ADVICE

Dear Helen: The letter from "Ghost's Host" prompts me to write. (Note from H: You and several hundred other believers: Poltergeists are a popular subject.)

Thanks to the efforts of parapsychological investigators, poltergeists have been given permission to exist outside of imagination. There are some well-documented cases already in print.

However, I would like to tell "Ghost's Hostess" that if her "friends" are friendly, she is very lucky. Poltergeists come in assorted temperaments, tendencies and talents, many of them vicious. They have been known to start fires, completely wreck the inside of a house, hit, kick, bite—actually leaving bruises and toothmarks—throw rocks, write obscene words on walls—you name it, there is a poltergeist somewhere who has done it.

If this lady is interested in learning more about her uninvited guests, she could write the Parapsychology Department, Duke University, Durham, North Carolina.

Please warn her against publicizing her visitors too widely. Poltergeists can be bad but they are weak compared to what the thrill-seeking public would do to her home and life. Not to mention way-outers who peddle magic charms, fantastic literature, etc. —F.J.

Dear Helen: A poltergeist is a soul without a body, confused and earthbound. It should be encouraged to leave and go where souls belong. —PEGGY

Dear Helen: Contrary to popular opinion, a poltergeist is neither ghost nor a disembodied soul. It is an energy reserve that has found an outlet through an unwitting human agent who often becomes its prime target. It has no intelligence of its own. The agent is usually either a child approaching puberty, an immature adult or an idiot. If Ghost's Host has anyone living with her who fits this description she just may have a poltergeist on her hands, no matter what house she moves into. And it can be dangerous! —E.S.

Dear Helen: I'm glad to hear there's another person who, like me, enjoys yer poltergeists and doesn't want to move. Her husband should relax and enjoy the visitors, too. So long as you believe in the poltergeist, you'll have no real trouble. Noisemaking and breakage will quiet down and the fellow may leave for long periods. Accept him as one of the family, and like an attention-craving child, he'll behave better. —POLTERGEIST'S FRIEND

Dear Helen: Poltergeists are not harmful. They're only mischievous ghosts, but they'll put a house in an uproar by destroying things, turning off lights, slamming doors, etc. —A BELIEVER

Dear Helen: Poltergeists are "souls in distress" thrown into eternity before their time. The only way they can call for help is by being noisy. If Ghost's Host will pray for them, they'll find their way to their real home. It has happened to me three times.

The most startling was when I was a young bride. I had nightmares of two big dark things beating me. In the morning I'd wake up with bruises all over me. Other tenants complained of strange things happening in their apartments: chairs overturned, lamps going on in the middle of the night. I prayed and told them to pray. Nothing more happened. —MRS. J.A.C. DEAR HELEN: Poltergeists are evil spirits, demons sent by the Devil. —J.P.

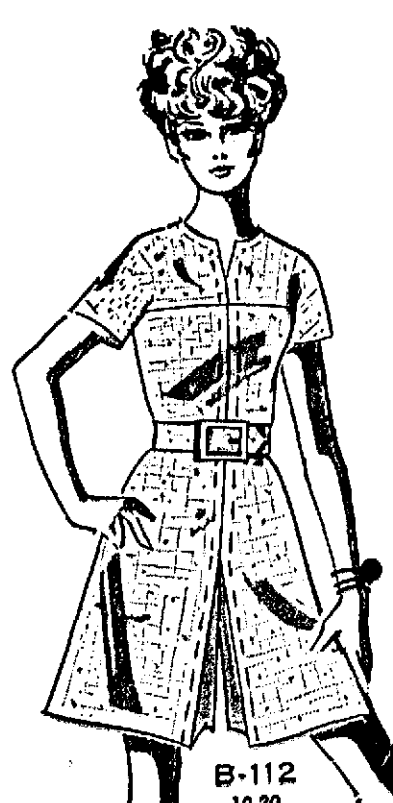

Dear Helen: Ghost's Host should try an ouija board to find out who her visitors are. We learned our poltergeist was a lecherous old greatuncle, who led the type of life you only read about. So we moved away from that house! —B.G.D.

Dear Helen: You can talk to a poltergeist through table tapping—one tap for Yes, two taps for No, in answer to your questions. This way you can find out why he is not at peace, and find a way to send him "home." —BELIEVER

Dear Helen: Tell Ghost's Host that two cats in her house will keep the poltergeist quiet. —MRS. C.W.

Dear All of You: I never met a poltergeist I hope I never meet one! But if I do, I'll read my mail! —And know just how to treat one! —H.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

HONOLULU (AP) — It was enough to gladden the heart of a film buff: George O'Brien and Dorothy MacKall — together again for the first time since "The Man Who Came Back."

Many a middle-aged movie fan will remember the 1931 movie and will recall the blonde beauty of Miss MacKall and the muscular handsomeness of George O'Brien. For those who like to play the "whatever happened to—" game, it can be reported that Miss MacKall lives alone at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel and likes it. She is still as bright and bouncy as when she was co-starring with Jack Mulhall and couldn't care less about an acting career. The record books indicate she is 65, but her daily swims in the Waikiki surf have helped erase a decade or two from her appearance.

The George O'Brien story requires a bit more telling. He was in Hawaii on vacation with his daughter Orin, bassist with the New York Philharmonic, and after reminiscing about the golden Hollywood days with Miss MacKall, he talked to a reporter about his long and varied career.

O'Brien was the athlete son of the police chief of San Francisco.

"It was through my dad that I got into the picture business," the actor remarked. "Tom Mix came to San Francisco to appear at a rodeo for the policemen's benefit fund. I had worked out with police horses since I was a small kid, and Mix was impressed with the way I rode in the rodeo. He told me to look him up if I ever came to Hollywood."

Later O'Brien went south to seek a career as a cameraman, but found Mix was out of town. He talked himself into a job as assistant cameraman at Fox, then got into stunt work. The big break came in 1924, when

THEN AND NOW photos of Mrs. Richard J. Hughes, wife of New Jersey's governor, show the startling weight reduction she has accomplished since last year. Mrs. Hughes, 46, weighed nearly 250 pounds in June, 1967, left. After more than 18 weeks of rigid dieting under medical supervision, she trimmed 80 pounds from her figure.

John Ford picked him to star in the classic western, "The Iron Horse."

O'Brien became one of the leading outdoor stars of the 1920's and successfully bridged the talkies. Among his notable films: "Sunrise," "Noah's Ark," "Line Star Ranger," "Riders of the Purple Sage," "Daniel Boone," "The Last Trail," "The Painted Desert," "Stage to China."

He had served a hitch in the Navy as a sailor, and in 1940 the Navy asked him to re-enlist as an officer. "We figure your example would help recruitment," he was told. Although he was earning big money co-producing his own Westerns, O'Brien couldn't resist the offer. He served almost six years and found he had to build his acting career all over again. His old pal Ford cast him in such films as "Fort Apache" and "She Wore a Yellow Ribbon."

In 1955, the Navy again sought O'Brien's services as an officer with NATO.

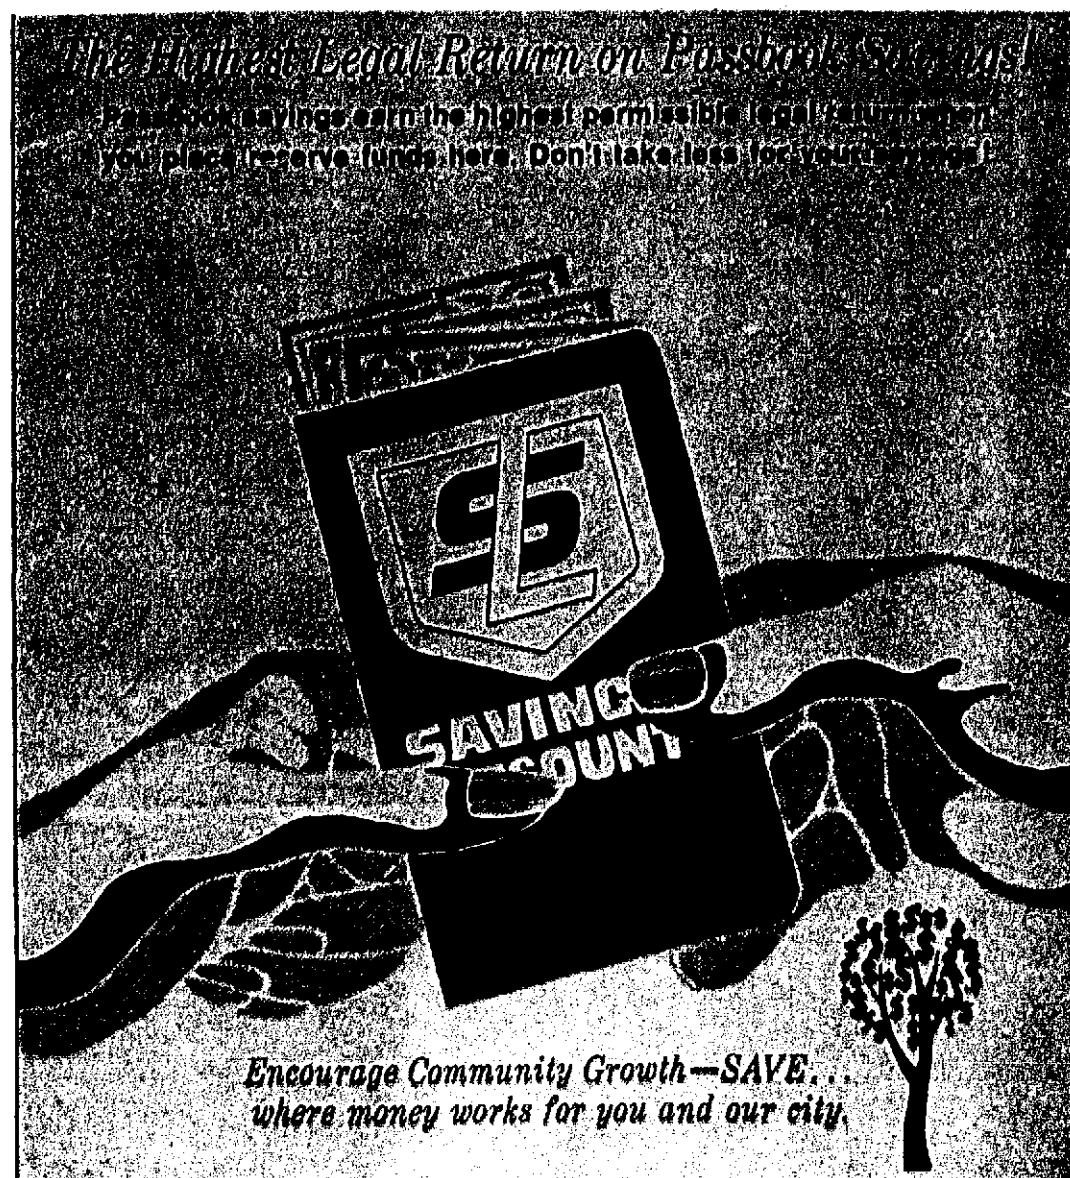

O'Brien retired as a captain in 1962 and once more returned to acting again for Ford in "Cheyenne Autumn." Now 65 and as vigorous as in his sage brush days, he is eager to work in films. "But there's no pressure. Thank God I saved my money," he added.

He has been divorced for 20 years from his onetime co-star and mother of his three children, Marguerite Churchill.

Nicklaus Is Leading Western

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — When a golf pro has putting woes it is a nagging mental thing that makes him try just about anything to regain that indefinable touch on the greens.

That's the Jack Nicklaus story of the day.

The Big Bear, who hasn't won a tournament since the Sahara Invitational last October, shot a six-under-par 65 Thursday to take a two-stroke, first-round lead in the chase for the $26,000 top prize of the Western Open.

The 65 matched the course record set by the late Lawson Little in 1940.

Since winning the U.S. Open last year at Baltusrol with a record 275, Nicklaus has been going steady with a putter called White Fang because of the color of the blade.

"I haven't been doing so well with it so for this tournament I decided to get out my old Lowe putter that I used in winning the 1966 British Open," he said.

"Since I decided to use it, I also decided to go back to my old putting stance, into more of a crouch," he said.

"Well, I want to tell you. On the first hole Thursday, when I sank a 30-foot putt for a birdie, I got to wondering as I walked down the second fairway when the last time was that I had dropped a 30-footer. And I just couldn't think back that far."

Nicklaus had 30 putts including six one-putts greens.

Two strokes behind Nicklaus entering today's second round were Terry Dill, seeking his first victory since turning pro in 1962, and Miller Barber, winner of this year's Nelson Classic.

Barber fired a 30-37-67.

"That 30 on the front side was the greatest nine holes I ever played," he said.

It included five birdie putts ranging from one foot to 12 feet.

Larry Hinson, 23, a graduate from the PGA Improved player school at Palm Beach Gardens, Fla., last April, posted a 68. He was among 24 players who had to qualify for the Western in trials Monday.

Grouped at 69 were Pete Brown, Jay Hebert, Billy Maxwell, Homero Blancas and Bob Verwey. In all, 27 players broke par in the field of 150 which will be trimmed after 36 holes to those within 10 strokes of the lead.

Tom Weiskopf, the leading money winner, was in the 70 bracket along with such players as PGA champion Julius Boros, Tony Jacklin and George Archer.

Lee Trevino, the U.S. Open champion, had a 72 with an eight on the par four second hole. Arnold Palmer was buried at 74 after a pair of double bogeys.

Only 10 elements were known in ancient times.

Green Bay Gets Nod Over Stars

By JERRY Liska
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — A bevy of ex-collegians, all aspiring for pro jobs, will learn the facts of play-for-pay football life against the Green Bay Packers in the 35th All-Star Game at Soldier Field tonight.

The 50-man collegiate squad, directed for the first time by Norm Van Brocklin, former Minnesota Viking coach, rates a three-touchdown underdog trying to avert a third straight trimming by the National Football League champion Packers.

A crowd of 60,000 is expected for the clash which starts at 9:30 p.m., EDT, and will be telecast nationally via ABC.

The Collegians trail 23-9-2 in the series launched in 1934 by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc. They have beaten the pros only twice in the last 10 years, their latest victory a 20-17 shading of the Packers in 1963.

Like Van Brocklin, former NFL star quarterback for the Los Angeles Rams and Philadelphia Eagles, new Packer Coach Phil Bengtson will make his All-Star Game debut.

Bengtson, successor to retired Vince Lombardi, obviously has a lot more going for him than Van Brocklin, who has had only three weeks to prepare his youthful charges for the test against the tough, slick and talented Packers.

The Pack, priming for its fourth straight rule of the professional roost, shut out the All-Stars in the last two games, 27-0 last year and 38-0 in 1966.

Best chance for an upset rests mainly on the passing skills of All-Star quarterback, Gary Beban, Helmsman Trophy winner from UCLA, and surprising Greg Landry of Massachusetts.

Beban, particularly, is the scrambling type quarterback—like Fran Tarkenton, former Viking star—who most annoys the Packers.

Willie Davis, Green Bay's bruising defensive end, pointed out: "A study of our history will show we often have had trouble with unorthodox quarterbacks."

"Beban can move around and throw the ball. So we've got to be conscious of which quarterback is in there, that's for sure."

Van Brocklin is trying an All-Star innovation, sending in each play, with his receivers, a strong collegiate department, serving as messenger boys.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The East All-Star football team game the fans at the 1967 edition of the High School All-Star game what they wanted to see — plenty of passing, and there's no reason to believe the East won't employ the same weapon again Aug. 10.

C. W. Keopple, head coach of the East, used the pass often and effectively while compiling a 10-1 record at Little Rock Hall.

Keopple will have three fine passers at his disposal—his own Walter Nelson, highly touted Gus Rusher of Brinkley and little Johnny Eldridge of Augusta.

The East defeated the West 28-12 last year and has built up an 8-4 advantage since the inception of the game in 1956.

The East lost the first two, won the second two, lost the next two and has won the last six.

The East, with Darrell Hatchett of North Little Rock leading the way, threw on 51 of its 96 offensive plays last year. Hatchett completed 15 of 27 for 233 yards and the East wound up with more than 325 yards passing.

Keith French of Brinkley was the receiving star, catching nine for 184 yards and one touchdown.

Keopple also should have a strong running attack with Ronnie Hook of Newport, Larry Brown of Marianna, Steve Hockersmith of Hall and Danny Duke of North Little Rock.

Coach Jarrell Williams of Springdale, head coach of the West, figures he will be able to field a solid running attack with Mike Saint of Texarkana and his own Steve Brown.

The basketball competition has been more even, with each side winning six games. The West, behind Donnie Watts of Harrison, defeated the East 94-84 last year.

The West's squad this year includes Almer Lee of Fort Smith Northside, quite possibly the most exciting high school player in the state during the past season. Lee dazzled audiences with his play in the Class AAA State Tournament which the Grizzlies captured.

John Belcher, 6-foot-8, 240-pounder from Hot Springs Langston is expected to aid the West on the boards. Sidney Ragland of Pyatt will coach the West.

The East, coached by Roland Wells of Turrell, will have its share of good inside men with Michael Peterson of Little Rock, Horace Mann, Jerry Schmidt of Little Rock Central and Bob Murphy of North Little Rock.

The approximately 100 athletes will arrive Saturday for a week-long stay at the University of Arkansas Medical Center.

The basketball game is set for Barton Coliseum Aug. 10 at 2 p.m., followed by the football game at War Memorial Stadium at 8 p.m.

Hansen Hits Grand Slam, Beats Tigers

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Ron Hansen is at his best with men on base—no matter whose men.

Only three days ago, the lanky shortstop was in the field with two runners on base, and turned a line drive into only the eighth unassisted triple play in major league history.

Then, with three of his teammates on base Thursday night, he came to bat and proved the point, belting a grand slam home run that sparked the Senators in a 9-3 rout over the Detroit Tigers.

"The home run was a real thrill," he said, "but the triple play was by far a bigger thrill."

The Tigers were not around for the triple play, and the homer certainly didn't excite them as they had a game sliced off their American League lead.

Baltimore pulled within six games by beating third-place Cleveland 5-1 as Dave McNally outduelled Luis Tiant.

Stan Bahnsen hurled a three-hitter and the New York Yankees edged Boston 1-0 in the other night game, and Minnesota defeated the Chicago White Sox 4-1 in an afternoon contest. California and Oakland were idle.

In the National League, St. Louis tipped Philadelphia 2-1 in a game called by rain with one out in the eighth inning, Pittsburgh tumbled Cincinnati 6-1 and San Francisco tripped Los Angeles 2-0 in night games, and Atlanta whipped the New York Mets 4-2 and the Chicago Cubs upended Houston 4-1 in the afternoon.

Hansen, a 30-year-old veteran in his fifth major league season, has always been a good hitter with men on base for a guy who has never hit more than .261 in the majors. He has driven in between 51 and 86 runs in each of the five seasons he has played regularly.

His homer in the fourth inning against the Tigers was his eighth of the season and 97th of his career, but his first slam. It put the Senators safely ahead 6-1 after Mike Epstein belted his eighth with a man on in the first inning off Pat Dobson, 3-3. Bernie Allen later counted a two-run shot, his fourth.

The show of power made it easy for Joe Coleman, who scattered eight hits, including a homer by Norm Cash, to raise his record to 7-12 and end Detroit's winning streak at three.

Baltimore took advantage by scoring four runs in the ninth inning, the first two on Elrod Hendricks' single, off Tiant, 17-7, who entered the ninth with a four-hitter, one of them Curt Blefary's ninth homer.

McNally, 14-8, finished with a six-hitter and blanked the Indians after the first inning for the Orioles' third victory in a row that kept Cleveland eight games behind Detroit.

Bahnsen struck out 12 in winning his duel against Bob Meacham, 0-1, who yielded only five hits. Tom Tresh scored the run in the seventh inning when he beat out a bunt, stole second and came around on Bill Robinson's hit.

Bob Allison homered and singled for two Minnesota runs against the White Sox and Jack Fisher. The single drove in one of three unearned runs.

Jim Perry, 8-6, blanked the Sox on four hits until the eighth and left in the ninth with two out when he apparently pulled a muscle in his side.

Houston Pro Oilers Going Under Dome

By ED SCHUYLER Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

It looks like it might be Dome, sweet Dome, for the Houston Oilers.

The American Football League club played in the Astrodome for the first time Thursday night and beat the Washington Redskins of the National Football League 9-3 in an exhibition season opener.

In an exhibition between two NFL clubs, the Los Angeles Rams rallied in the second half and upended the New Orleans Saints 21-17.

The only game on tap tonight pits the Green Bay Packers against the College All-Stars in the annual charity bash in Chicago's Soldier Field.

The Oilers were supposed to play in the Dome when it opened in 1965, but a dispute arose over lease terms and it was not settled until last winter.

This season they will play three more exhibitions and all of their seven league home games there.

A crowd of 41,865—the Oilers averaged 27,500 for seven home games last season in Rice Stadium—saw Houston strike first on a nine-yard touchdown pass from veteran quarterback Pete Beathard to rookie Mack Halk.

The conversion attempt was missed. In intra-league exhibition games this year, a team scoring a touchdown cannot kick the extra point but must try for the conversion by running or passing.

Washington, guided by rookie Harry Theofiles and veteran Jim Ninowski, got into Houston territory only three times, and each time Charlie Gogolak tried and light, ½-ounce spinners. This is a good rig, and fun to catch small fish on, but long casts are difficult—even into a light breeze. My only successes had come when I could get the lure out beyond the fringe of lily pads and into deeper water, where the fish were more at ease.

Just beyond a narrow gulch of sawgrass, I saw movement under the protective umbrellas of lilies. I froze, and in a few seconds the shadow appeared again. It was a bass of better than five pounds.

I cast beyond it and brought the lure back right in front of his nose. He ran at it but let it pass. Twice more the same thing happened.

This is most uncharacteristic. Bass are not merely voracious but actually nasty of temper. They'll hit a lure for the pure hell of it, even when they're not feeding.

Not this one. Furthermore, he kept returning to the same spot.

Was just another piece of debris—he picked it up in his mouth and started to move it.

And that's when I zapped him.

The story has a happy ending, though. It was such an underhanded trick that I let him go. He had fought as well as any bass ever does, and that's quite good. Like a bull that has fought well and refuses to die, he was pardoned.

I couldn't look myself in the shaving mirror if I hadn't.

I was using a spinning rod fields goals. He made good on only the second, a 35-yarder just before the end of the first half. The other two were blocked.

John Wittenborn booted a 27-yard field goal for the Oilers in the third quarter.

Before a crowd of 29,505 in Anaheim Stadium, quarterback Roman Gabriel threw two touchdown passes and scored a third in Los Angeles' victory over New Orleans.

Bill Kilmer's pair of TD passes gave the Saints a 14-7 halftime lead and New Orleans went ahead 17-7 in the third quarter on Charlie Durkee's 36-yard field goal.

The Rams launched their comeback and cut the deficit to 17-10 later in the period on Gabriel's 29-yard aerial to Billy Truax. Los Angeles went in front for good in the final stanza when Bernie Casey caught Gabriel's 10-yard scoring toss.

Ump to Place Yastrzemski on Report

BOSTON (AP) — Carl Yastrzemski and umpire Al Salerno burst into a heated argument after a third strike call which ended Thursday night's 1-0 New York victory over Boston.

The umpire says he is reporting the incident to American League President Joe Cronin for further action.

The slugging Red Sox outfielder argued briefly on the field, then the verbal battle really exploded under the stands as reported by Pat Horne in today's editions of the Boston Record American.

"I will positively file a report on him with Mr. Cronin, and it will be up to the president to take further action," Salerno said. "Since the game was completed there's nothing else I can do."

Phil Regan chalked up his 14th save of the season and Don Kessinger rapped three hits and had a hand in three scoring rallies as the Cubs tripped Houston.

Kessinger tripped and scored on Ron Santo's first-inning single. The same combination clicked again in the seventh with singles by Kessinger and Santo sandwiched around a sacrifice producing another run.

Jim Hickman doubled and Kessinger singled him home in the eighth.

Regan came out of the bullpen in the eighth and protected Joe Niekro's fifth straight victory and his 11th of the season. Randy Hundley homered for the Cubs.

Atlanta's Cecil Upshaw came on with two runs in and none out in the first inning and shut New York out with nine innings of four-hit relief as the Braves tagged the Mets with their fifth straight loss.

Felipe Alou's leadoff double triggered a two-run Brave rally in the first but the Mets bounced back to tie, knocking out starter Jim Britton. Then Upshaw slammed the door on them and Atlanta pushed a pair of runs across in the second, taking the lead for keeps.

I crawled a little closer and put on Polaroid sunglasses and then I could see the nest. It was a shallow depression in the sandy bottom. The bass was its guardian.

After several more attempts to interest him in the lure—and becoming more and more frustrated in the process—I suddenly was seized with a most ungentlemanly idea: I cast beyond the nest and brought the lure back right over it, and then let the line go slack. The lure settled in the nest.

At first the bass darted away, and then he came back and nosed at the lure. Nothing happened, so—thinking I

Marichal Is First 20 Game Winner

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

If relief pitchers had to depend on Juan Marichal to bulk their reputations, they'd be in a lot of trouble.

Marichal, who became the National League's first 20-game winner with a three-hitter as San Francisco blanked Los Angeles 2-0 Thursday night, believes in finishing what he starts.

The Dominican Dandy bested Dodger ace Don Drysdale for his 16th consecutive complete game and fifth straight victory. Marichal has gone the distance in 96 of his last 97 victories.

In other National League action, Atlanta topped New York 4-2, Chicago tripped Houston 4-1, St. Louis nipped Philadelphia 2-1 in a game ended by rain after seven innings, and Pittsburgh rapped Cincinnati 6-1.

In the American League, Washington whacked Detroit 9-3, Minnesota bounced Chicago 4-1, Baltimore downed Cleveland 6-1 and New York blanked Boston 1-0.

The bullpen had its usual quiet evening while Marichal mowed down the Dodgers. It was the Giant ace's seventh straight victory in head-to-head showdowns with Drysdale.

Marichal, 20-4, is six days ahead of the pace set by Dizzy Dean who won 30 games in 1934—the last pitcher to do it. Dean didn't notch No. 20 until Aug. 7; Detroit's Denny McLain, 21-3, is the only other 20-game winner in the majors at the moment.

Jim Davenport singled San Francisco's first run across in the fourth and hot-hitting Dick Dietz cracked a homer in the sixth. It was Dietz' sixth hit in eight at bats.

The rampaging Cardinals extended their first-place lead to 15 games with Steve Carlton's seven-inning two-hitter beating Philadelphia.

It was the fourth straight complete game victory for the St. Louis pitching staff. Roger Maris stroked a single and double and had a hand in both Cardinal runs.

Maris doubled Lou Brock home in the third and singles by Curt Flood and Steve Niekro followed by Orlando Cepeda's double play grounder broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth. Johnny Callison homered for the Phillies.

Willie Stargell hammered a three-run homer that carried the Pirates past Cincinnati. Stargell connected against Jim Maloney in the fourth inning after Matty Alou's single and an error by Tommy Helms had put Pittsburgh in business. Errors by Johnny Bench and Vada Pinson helped the Pirates to a run without a hit in the first and Maloney forced in another with a bases-loaded walk.

Phil Regan chalked up his 14th save of the season and Don Kessinger rapped three hits and had a hand in three scoring rallies as the Cubs tripped Houston.

Triples Spark Travelers to Victory

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers, sparked by triples by Mike Christino and Leron Lee, scored five runs in the seventh inning here Thursday night and defeated San Antonio 9-3.

Jerry Reuss, a hard-throwing

19-year-old lefthander, pitched a complete game for the Travs. He struck out 13 batters, a high for Arkansas pitchers this season. He gave up seven hits, but only two during the final six innings.

Arkansas held a 4-2 lead going into the bottom of the seventh. The Missions brought in Gary Encerti to pitch. He threw five pitches, good for four hits and four runs.

Memphis blew a 4-0 lead and then came back with a run in the ninth to defeat Amarillo 5-4 and snap a five-game losing streak. The Blues scored the winning run when Mike Wysocki batted with Curtis Brown, who had tripled, on third.

Albuquerque defeated Dallas-Fort Worth 11-10 and Shreveport edged El Paso 2-1 in other Texas League action.

Canadian Is Surprise of Swim Meet

By JIM VAN YALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer
LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Canadian Ralph Hutton surprised

even himself, and Debbie Meyer of Sacramento, Calif., was right on schedule as they started the expected parade of world records at the 18th National AAU Outdoor Swimming and Diving Championships Thursday night.

They shattered the men's and women's world marks in the 400-meter freestyle by sizable margins.

Karin Muir of South Africa broke her meet record in the 200 backstroke at 2:24.3, but missed her world mark of 2:23.8.

Santa Clara's Mark Spitz, succeeding teammate Don Schollander as king of the world's male swimmers, could push Schollander to a world record tonight in the men's 200 freestyle, renewing a friendly but fierce rivalry. Schollander's world mark is 1:55.7.

World marks are possible in all six events tonight, with the record holder on hand in five of them.

The 15-year-old Miss Meyer was aiming for 4:25 and almost made it with 4:26.7, 2.3 seconds under her old world mark.

Hutton competed for Canada in the 1964 Olympics, finishing seventh in the 200 backstroke, but never concentrated on the 400 free until this spring. He improved rapidly to a best of 4:11.9 last month.

He produced an amazing 4:06.5 in the finals here, edging UCLA's Mike Burton, who had 4:06.6. Both were well under the five-week-old pending world record of 4:07.7 by Spitz, who passed up the 400 for the 100 butterfly.

Big Problem

BALLSTON SPA, N.Y. (AP) — One of the problems in the race was in keeping the entries from devouring each other.

The contest, held not far from Saratoga Raceway, was won by a big green racing frog, who outdistanced such other speedsters as beetles, moles, lizards, garter snakes and large ants.

It was called the Critter Race and was held Thursday by members of the Saratoga County Boy Scout Council's camp.

THE FIG TREE

We have all been impressed with the pathetic story of the barren fig tree. It was destined to perennial barrenness. The owner found this wilted tree and ordered it cut down but his vine-keeper pled for it to have another chance. This is a good parable of the Grace of God. Our religion is essentially a religion of redemption. God gives everyone of us another chance. We have failed more than once but the Almighty has been patient, kind and forgiving. Perhaps Luke 15 is our truest picture of God. He is like a woman who seeks until she finds her lost coin; like the shepherd who left the ninety and nine to find the lost one; like the father who received his prodigal son. The lesson is plain. God gives another chance and He will gather all the ripe figs.

Byrd Denies Endorsement of Crank

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Rep. Merlon Crank of Foreman, apparently because of a misunderstanding, issued a statement Thursday thanking former state Sen. Clyde Byrd of Little Rock for an endorsement he never received.

Crank's headquarters, after learning that Byrd had not endorsed Crank, issued another statement Thursday night apologizing for Crank's statement. "We were incorrect," Jack Oakes, Crank's campaign manager said. "We had heard over the radio or through some source that Mr. Byrd had endorsed Mr. Crank's candidacy. But Mr. Byrd has not endorsed his candidacy... we are very sorry about the statement we made and we now offer a public apology for Mr. Byrd."

Byrd, who trailed his five opponents in Tuesday's Democratic gubernatorial primary, said Thursday night he had not endorsed Crank.

He said he "had not talked to anyone" about Crank's candidacy. "No one even discussed it with me," Byrd said.

Oakes said Crank had issued the statement after being informed that Byrd had endorsed his candidacy.

"Clyde Byrd has been a friend of mine for many years and I am extremely happy to hear that he has endorsed my candidacy," Crank said in the statement.

Crank led the ticket in the primary and will probably face Mrs. Virginia Johnson in the Aug. 13 runoff.

The unofficial returns gave Mrs. Johnson a 505-vote lead over Ted Boswell of Bryant, but Boswell supporters fanned out Thursday looking for errors in the vote totals.

The county Democratic committees are to certify their totals this afternoon.

A spokesman for Mrs. Johnson said her husband, Jim, would not participate in the campaign, except possibly to help raise money.

"This is Virginia's race," the spokesman said. "She is going to run it. Jim will stay out."

The spokesman said Mrs. Johnson had not contacted any of the other candidates about support.

Crank said Thursday he would run against Mrs. Johnson as if she were a man. He indicated he would not direct any of his campaign against Jim Johnson unless he participated in the campaign.

3 American Pilots Are Released

SAIGON (AP) — Three American pilots released by North Vietnam arrived in Vientiane, Laos, aboard an International Control Commission plane late today U.S. Embassy sources in Laos said.

"The plane touched down at 10:30 p.m. (Laos time)," a U.S. Embassy source told the Associated Press in Saigon during a telephone interview.

He said the three American pilots were aboard and U.S. Ambassador William H. Sullivan was on hand at Vientiane Airport to greet them.

Hanoi announced July 18 that three imprisoned pilots had been freed there and named them as Maj. James F. Low, 43, of Sausalito, Calif., a Korean war ace shot down by a missile Dec. 16, 1967; Maj. Fred Neale Thompson, 32, of Taylors, S.C., captured last March 20, and Capt. Joe Victor Carpenter, 37, of Victorville, Calif., captured last Feb. 15.

Plan to Put 500,000 Hard-core Jobless to Work Starts Slowly

By JEAN HELLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's program to put 500,000 hard-core unemployed to work is off to a slow start, say project officials, partly because employers demand too many skills and the unemployed want too much money.

The program, operated by the National Alliance of Businessmen, has received thousands of pledges of jobs from industry, but it is having trouble filling the openings.

NAB administrators in 10 major cities covered in an Associated Press survey agreed that job pledges far exceed placements, although officials in only four of the 10 could provide exact figures.

In those four—Newark, Cleveland, Chicago and Pittsburgh—pledges totaled 21,477.

Nonetheless, officials expressed confidence that the joint government-industry venture eventually will succeed. Jack McGowan, NAB director in San Francisco, put it this way: "It is a little too early to judge the long-range effect, but we are encouraged by what we consider a newly aroused section of public conscience. We are optimistic."

Program administrators in the 10 cities surveyed said problems encountered most frequently were:

—Jobs offered sometimes require skills the hard-core unemployed do not possess.

—Jobs pledged often do not pay well enough to encourage the unemployed to abandon their checks.

—Jobs evaporate before NAB can produce applicants for interviews.

—Placement procedures, the process of matching an applicant with a job, have been slowed by administrative red tape and manpower shortages.

—Job pledges sometimes go unfulfilled because transportation problems are prohibitive.

When the National Alliance of Businessmen was launched last January under the leadership of Henry Ford II, chairman of the Ford Motor Co., its goal was to put 100,000 hard-core unemployed to work by next summer and 500,000 to work by the summer of 1971.

In June, Johnson called on the NAB to find another 200,000 jobs for needy youth this summer.

Job pledges for both the permanent and summer job programs have come in fast, NAB officials say—in some cases much faster than they expected.

But pledges are one thing; placements another.

Hope Housing Authority on Texas Street

The Housing Authority of the City of Hope, Arkansas, is now operating from the Administration Building at 720 Texas Street. Texas Street is not a familiar street to many Hope residents.

It is on the south side of town between Washington and Fulton Streets, traversing North and South between 4th and 7th Streets to Mack Street.

The Administration Building houses the Housing Authority Office; Maintenance Shop; and an equipped Community Center. The Community Center will be used for a planned recreation program for the elderly within the Sites. This program will be under the direction of the City Parks and Recreation Department. When the Community Center is not being used for the purpose of this program it will be available for meetings and other civic uses. The Calender for the Community Center will be kept in the Housing Authority Office.

The formal opening of the Administration Building will be announced at a later date, until that time the Housing Authority is taking applications from persons interested in housing. The office hours are from 8:00 a.m. until 12:00 p.m. and from 1:00 p.m. until 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. The housing available is for family units and elderly. The applicant is asked to fill out an application form that is used by all Housing Authorities to determine eligibility. Rents are determined by income and family structure.

The Housing Authority personnel consists of: Mike Kelly, Executive Director; Mrs. Rose Marie Shirey, Office Manager; and L. E. Brown, Maintenance Engineer.

Candidates Develop War Stands

By REILMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller now have fully developed their stands on the Vietnam war. Statements made at the outset of their drives to win the Republican nomination for president have been elaborated on in campaign appearances and in position papers.

As they developed their campaigns, differences appeared between them on specific aspects of the war and events related to it.

One of the most striking came when Rockefeller attacked Nixon on June 20, he referred to "... the varying statements and bewildering judgments made on the Vietnam war, over the last two years, by Mr. Richard Nixon."

Nixon did not reply, directly or indirectly.

In the Chicago speech, Rockefeller hit at Nixon for urging a "moratorium" on statements about the war after the talks with North Vietnam began in Paris.

On April 19, Nixon had said, "I intend as long as there is any hope for successful conclusion of these negotiations to have a moratorium on criticism."

Here are some of the major points they made on Vietnam: Administration Policy

Rockefeller, June 21—"The military policies of our government are frequently not integrated with political considerations, so that military actions may actually frustrate over-all policy goals. Examples of this include... the bombing of Hanoi in December 1966 in the midst of delicate diplomatic peace initiatives."

Nixon, Aug. 1—"Our massive military superiority has been wasted, our options frittered away, by applying power so gradually as to be ineffective. The swift, overwhelming blow that would have been decisive two or three years ago is no longer possible today. Instead, we find that we have been locked into a massive, grinding war of attrition."

Policy For South Vietnam Nixon, Feb. 7—"... and in South Vietnam we must prosecute more effectively the training of the South Vietnamese forces and the pacification program so that they (North Vietnamese and Viet Cong) won't have so fertile a ground to plough."

Rockefeller, May 1—"The 'Americanization' of the effort, military and civilian, should be reversed. The Saigon government should be encouraged to mobilize and develop its best manpower, both military and civilian. Our efforts in Vietnam will be successful to the extent that it leads the Vietnamese to assume greater responsibility for their future."

Escalation Rockefeller, May 19—"If it is quite clear that we are not going to solve this problem in Vietnam and in the whole of Southeast Asia, and with our relations with the Soviet Union and China, through military action. They have been able to match us on every escalation with manpower and sophisticated weapons, and they can do it right up to nuclear weapons."

LBJ Orders Purchases From Steel Firms Who Didn't Hike Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a major confrontation with the steel industry, President Johnson has authorized an effort to try to force a rollback of increased steel prices by boycotting firms who boost their costs.

President Johnson Thursday told the Defense Department to avoid buying steel products from firms who put in major price increases. He said such general boosts could have "dire consequences" for the nation's economy because of possible inflationary results.

Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford followed the President's statement by directing his agency "wherever possible to shift orders for future deliveries of items of steel on which prices have been raised to companies which have not increased prices, if by doing so you can obtain the required product, on time, at a lower cost to the government."

The Pentagon took similar actions in April 1962 and January 1966 in efforts to force steel producers to recant on announced price increases. This pressure

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's strategists claim he has sealed off the possibility of any quick nomination of Richard M. Nixon at the Republican convention.

The Republicans are writing a platform document that isn't likely to start any convention battles.

Pollsters Gallup and Harris say in a joint statement that Rockefeller "has now moved to an open lead" over the Democratic presidential candidates.

Nixon and Rockefeller differ on the Vietnam war. Their views also vary on some domestic issues.

If predictions hold, the Democrats will spend $16 million and Republicans $11 million during their conventions.

Two Marine Units Nearly Wiped Out

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Hurling Bangalore torpedoes and other explosive charges, North Vietnamese troops attacked two U.S. Marine units in South Vietnam's northern provinces and killed or wounded nearly all of the Americans.

Fourteen Leathernecks were killed and 22 were wounded in the attacks Thursday and today. They occurred south of Da Nang within 35 miles of each other.

The U.S. Command said 19 of the enemy were killed.

In one attack before dawn today, North Vietnamese troops hit a combined action platoon of about 15 to 20 Marines and 40 to 45 South Vietnamese militiamen in night defensive positions around a small village about 80 miles south of Da Nang.

Two or three enemy soldiers penetrated the platoon's perimeter, throwing charges as they broke in, but they were quickly stopped. When the fight was over, U.S. headquarters said, nine Marines, three South Vietnamese and 12 of the enemy had been killed, eight Marines were wounded and so were several militiamen.

Twenty-four hours earlier, a U.S. Marine reconnaissance team outnumbered 10 to 1 was overrun by North Vietnamese troops who killed five Marines and wounded the other 14.

Seven of the enemy were reported killed during the attack before dawn in jungled mountains 22 miles south of Da Nang.

An estimated 200 North Vietnamese attacked the post with assault rifles, submachine guns, satchel charges and Bangalore torpedoes, and broke through the Marines' barbed wire perimeter.

Marine reinforcements arrived two hours after the initial attack, but the North Vietnamese had withdrawn, the U.S. Command said.

The recon team was part of an operation trying to blunt the attack expected in the next two months on Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city and the biggest military base north of the Saigon area.

The team's mission was to locate some of the fast shifting North Vietnamese units so that larger Marine units could come in and crush them. The North Vietnamese have been conducting ambushes and attacks on allied forces.

Along with the Marine setback, units of the U.S. Army's 1st Cavalry Division reported killing 60 of the enemy in a series of engagements in the same general area. One American was reported wounded.

Clerk Denies Mailing Out Campaign Data

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — Jack Bland of Morrilton, Conway County clerk, said Thursday night that recent charges by a member of the Board of the Election Research Council were not true.

Nathan L. Schoenfeld, the board member, said earlier this week that the council had evidence "campaign material had been sent along with absentee ballots." He said Marion Crank campaign cards were sent out with absentee ballots in Lawrence County.

"All of the absentee ballots and requests were handled by my office and to my personal knowledge no campaign literature of any one was included in the absentee ballots or requests mailed by my office," Bland said. "Mr. Schoenfeld's information and statement are absolutely false and without any foundation."

Bland said he had been county clerk since 1966 and that he had never placed any campaign material in any "official ballot material."

"I challenge Mr. Schoenfeld to make an investigation which will reveal the truth of my statement and as it reflects on me and my office I will expect an immediate retraction and a personal apology from Mr. Schoenfeld for his unfounded remarks," Bland said.

Officers Capture 60 Lb. Cougar

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Sheriff's officers captured a 60-pound cougar kitten in south Salt Lake City Thursday night after a day-long hunt with bloodhounds.

Officers subdued the cougar with a tranquilizer gun near a spot where it had killed a goat early Thursday.

It was not known whether the animal was a pet, "I keep waiting for somebody to call in and say 'I've lost my cougar,'" the dispatcher said.

Meanwhile the cat, named Charley by his captors, was turned over to the Utah Fish and Game Department.
